Stephen Francis : Madam Eve: The Pothole at the End of the Rainbow (MADAM AND EVE) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Madam Eve: The Pothole at the End of the Rainbow (MADAM AND EVE):

From Julius Malema's tantrums to President Zuma's plane trips and from Bakkies Botha's booting to Helen Zille's toyi-toying, this record features a big and busy year in news from the Rainbow Nation. Offering a candid South African perspective of current events, this annual utilizes the usual cast of characters to illustrate the country's current political state.

'Outrageously funny with unerring humour and intelligence' - Cosmopolitan Magazine 'A new niche in popular culture' - The New York Times 'Locates the common national funnybone' - The Washington Post About the Author Stephen Francis is an award-winning writer and a radio and TV personality. In addition to being the creator of South Africa's most popular cartoon strip, Madam Eve, he has also written more than 28 episodes of the Madam Eve television series. He is the author of Desperate Housemaids, Gin and Tonic for the Soul, and The Maidrix. Rico Schacherl is a popular South African cartoonist and illustrator whose projects include corporate communication, advertising, animation, character creation, and children's television. The two previously collaborated on Strike While the Iron Is Hot.
